We are writing to let you know that in the coming weeks, you will receive a phone call from Research Triangle Institute (RTI) about an important U.S. Department of Labor program called the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®).

Employers, human resource professionals, job seekers, trainers, and labor market analysts across the country depend on the O*NET Program as the nation’s primary source of descriptive occupational information. O*NET is continually updated from input by a broad range of workers in each occupation and is made available to the public at no cost. We need your help to keep this information current.

If you have any questions, you can reach us at 919-541-6475 or email onethelp@rti.org. On behalf of the U.S. Department of Labor, we thank you for your time and consideration.

How do I know this is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor?

Confirm it by visiting the U.S. Department of Labor’s website at https://www.dol.gov/agencies/eta/onet/data-collection where you can also find more information about the O*NET program.

Sincerely,

Michael Penne

Dear [POC Name],

You recently received a phone call from RTI International about an important program called the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®). As the caller explained, your company has been randomly selected to participate in O*NET Data Collection, an important program sponsored by the United States Department of Labor (DOL) and the National Center for O*NET Development (O*NET Center).

The O*NET Center has been charged with the challenging task of keeping information about occupations up to date in a rapidly changing U.S. workplace. Employers, human resource professionals, job seekers, trainers, and labor market analysts across the country depend on occupational information to perform their daily work. We would like your help in keeping this information current. As discussed on your call, it is important that we continue this effort amidst COVID-19.

RTI, a non-profit research organization, is conducting this data collection effort for the DOL and the O*NET Center. The information we collect from your organization will be used to update the O*NET database, the primary source of occupational information in the nation. Responses will be kept private to the extent permitted by law. Data will not be linked to any individual employee or organization, but will only be used in summary form to describe occupations - not specific jobs.

This package includes two folders. The contents of the white folder explain your participation in this important project. A brochure describing O*NET information and benefits is included, as well as a list of professional associations endorsing O*NET data collection. The blue folder contains the O*NET Toolkit for Business, a valuable aid for you and your organization, as a token of appreciation for participating.

Please be assured that your participation in this effort is voluntary. The total time we estimate for your full participation will vary from 15 to 90 minutes. You are encouraged to send any comments regarding this estimate of your effort, or any other aspect of this collection of information to: U.S. Department of Labor, O*NET Project, ETA/OWI, 200 Constitution Avenue NW, Mail Stop C4526, Washington, DC 20210 (refer to OMB Control Number 1205-0421).

Thank you for your time and consideration. A member of the RTI O*NET team will call you in a few days to provide additional details and answer any questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Pamela L. Frugoli
O*NET/CareerOneStop/Competency Model Team Lead

What, Who, & How Brochure
Your Participation in O*NET Involves Only Three Simple Steps

Step 1 Assist the Business Liaison with employee sampling.

The Business Liaison will work with you to determine whether any employees at your establishment work in the occupations currently being updated. If so, he or she will ask you to compile a numbered roster of the employees in each selected occupation. The Business Liaison will use a computer algorithm to randomly select the line numbers of the employees to receive a questionnaire. The sample selection process will take place during one or two brief telephone calls.

Step 2 Distribute questionnaires to sampled employees.

Once the employees have been sampled, we will mail questionnaire packets to you for distribution to them. Remember, it’s important to retain your roster as you are the only person who knows whom the questionnaires are intended to go to.

Step 3 Assist the Business Liaison with follow-up activities.

Once you have received your questionnaires, the Business Liaison will give you a follow-up call to see if all the materials were received and to answer any questions. In the event that not all the questionnaires are returned, we will send replacement questionnaires for you to distribute to any nonresponders at your organization. The Business Liaison will keep you informed as the questionnaires are returned by the employees.

O*NET Data Collection Program
What, Who, & How?

An Introduction to the Occupational Information Network
What is O*NET?
The O*NET acronym stands for “Occupational Information Network.” It is the nation’s primary source of occupational information. O*NET is available as a timely, easy-to-use database designed to help millions of employers, workers, educators, and students make informed decisions about education, training, career choices, and work.

What is the O*NET Data Collection Program?
The O*NET Data Collection Program is an ongoing effort to develop and maintain this unique database on the detailed characteristics of workers and occupations. The information about an occupation is primarily collected directly from employees working within the occupation. The collection of this information is designed to provide data that are valid, reliable, and current.
Who

Who is funding this program?
The United States Department of Labor (DOL) funds the O*NET Data Collection Program. You can verify this information by checking the DOL Web site: https://www.doleta.gov/programs/onet.

Who is conducting the O*NET Data Collection?
Research Triangle Institute (RTI) is working with the United States Department of Labor to collect these data. RTI is an independent, nonprofit research organization located in Research Triangle Park, NC. RTI maintains close ties with Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and North Carolina State University.
How

How did you select my establishment?
Your establishment was randomly selected from a list containing nearly every business and institution in the country. The participation of your organization is important since the employees we select will represent thousands of employees in many other organizations like yours nationwide.

Are you selling us something?
Absolutely NOT! This is not a market study and we are not selling anything. This is an opportunity for you to assist the United States Department of Labor in collecting occupational data that will be used to continuously update the Occupational Information Network. O*NET information is available at no cost by downloading the O*NET Database or by viewing the O*NET data using O*NET OnLine (https://www.onetonline.org).

What are you asking me to do?
The three simple steps on the last page of this brochure summarize what your participation involves. Briefly, we will first ask you to assist in selecting a few employees in certain occupations in your organization. Then, we will mail you questionnaire packets to distribute to the selected employees. Finally, we will ask you to help us by following up with the employees who have not responded after a few weeks and distributing replacement questionnaires to them.

How much time is this going to take?
The time we estimate for your participation will vary from 15 to 90 minutes over the next several weeks. It takes approximately 30 minutes for a respondent to complete an O*NET questionnaire.
How many employees are you selecting?
No more than 20 employees in total will be selected from your workplace. Usually, the number selected is much less than 20.

How will my organization benefit?
To express our appreciation for participating, we offer your establishment the O*NET Toolkit for Business. This Toolkit is designed to help you use the O*NET database to simplify tasks such as writing job descriptions and planning for future human resource needs. Additionally, every organization benefits from the updated national O*NET database that will be the product of the occupational information your organization provides.

How will I personally benefit?
As our way of saying thanks, the person in each organization who serves as our point of contact will receive a framed Certificate of Appreciation from the U. S. Department of Labor and a special resource – the O*NET Toolkit for Business – that will be sent to you later, after we mail the questionnaires. In addition, the information you provide will help ensure that the millions of Americans who access the O*NET database will see the most current, accurate, and comprehensive data available.

How will the sampled employees benefit?
As our way of saying thanks for completing the O*NET questionnaire, we will attach $10 in cash to each employee’s questionnaire. The only exceptions are federal government employees and employees of establishments that request that no incentive be offered.
What kinds of questions are asked of the employees?

The questionnaires consist of objective questions about the activities, work context, training, and other aspects of work within an occupation. You can find a complete set of questionnaires on the O*NET Data Collection Program Web site at https://onet.rti.org. Each selected employee will receive only one of the questionnaires and will answer the questions about his or her occupation.

Will employees do this during working hours?

The questionnaires used in the O*NET Data Collection Program are self-administered. The instruction sheet that is included with the questionnaire packet requests selected employees to complete the questionnaire in their “off time” from work (e.g., at home, at lunch, during a break). The research staff has no direct contact with the employees unless they have a problem or question about the questionnaire and call our toll-free number for help.

Do I have to tell you the names of the employees sampled for the data collection?

No, you do not have to give us the names of your employees at any time during this study, unless you choose to have the questionnaire sent to them directly. However, if you wish, you may give us the initials of sampled employees to facilitate the distribution of materials. We will delete this information when data collection has been completed at your organization.

Am I required by law to participate?

No, your participation is voluntary. However, you are a critical link in this data collection project. This is an opportunity to assist the United States Department of Labor in collecting occupational information.
Will the information that we provide be kept private?

Yes! Your responses will be kept private to the extent permitted by law and will not affect your employment in any way. Neither your name nor your establishment’s name will be associated with your response. Data will be used only in summary form to describe occupations—not specific jobs or the individuals performing them.

Is information on the O*NET Program available on the Web?

Yes, it is. Information on the O*NET Data Collection Program is available online at https://onet.rti.org. You can also find general information on many O*NET programs and resources at the O*NET Resource Center Web site: https://www.onetcenter.org.

Who will contact me?

One of O*NET’s professionally trained Business Liaisons will contact you to walk you through the data collection process and will be available to answer your questions and concerns. Because we are committed to providing you with the highest quality of service, O*NET supervisors may monitor a sample of these calls. If you have any questions, you can call us toll-free, 1-877-233-7348, ext. 100, and the O*NET Operations Center Manager will assist you.

Ways to say “Thanks for participating in the O*NET Data Collection Program”
Thank you very much for your help

We are very appreciative of the help you and your company are providing to the O*NET Data Collection Program. We realize your time is valuable and limited, and we are truly appreciative of your contributions to this program.

To express our appreciation, we offer the items shown on the right to you, your company, and the employees who are selected to participate in the Program.

We believe the most valuable benefit of your participation is the information that will be returned to you and your company through the O*NET database. Many employers access this database routinely for information on occupational characteristics, worker attributes, and job descriptions.

We hope you enjoy all these benefits of the O*NET Program. We look forward to working with you over the next few weeks as we collect occupational information from your company.

In our next mailing to you, you will receive...

A $10 token of appreciation for each employee who is selected to complete the O*NET Questionnaire. The ten dollar bill will be enclosed with the questionnaire in the individual sealed envelopes that we will ask you to distribute to the sampled employees.

In a separate mailing, your company will receive...

The O*NET Toolkit for Business. The O*NET Toolkit for Business is a free packet of information about the O*NET Program that managers can use for human resource planning, including a guide for writing job descriptions.

A framed Certificate of Appreciation from the U.S. Department of Labor.
Selected Occupations List
Selected Occupations for [Establishment Name]

This list contains the definitions of a number of occupations that are of interest to the survey. Your O*NET representative will try to determine whether you have employees in some of these occupations in your next phone call. Please have this list available when he or she calls.

NOTE: Only five or fewer of the occupations listed below will actually be selected from your organization. The O*NET representative will provide further details about this when he or she calls.

1. Editors: Perform variety of editorial duties, such as laying out, indexing, and revising content of written materials, in preparation for final publication.

2. Computer Programmers: Convert project specifications and statements of problems and procedures to detailed logical flow charts for coding into computer language. Develop and write computer programs to store, locate, and retrieve specific documents, data, and information. May program Web sites.

3. Natural Sciences Managers: Plan, direct, or coordinate activities in such fields as life sciences, physical sciences, mathematics, statistics, and research and development in these fields.

4. Database Administrators: Coordinate changes to computer databases, test and implement the database applying knowledge of database management systems. May plan, coordinate, and implement security measures to safeguard computer databases.

5. Market Research Analysts: Research market conditions in local, regional, or national areas to determine potential sales of a product or service. May gather information on competitors, prices, sales, and methods of marketing and distribution. May use survey results to create a marketing campaign based on regional preferences and buying habits.

6. Economists: Conduct research, prepare reports, or formulate plans to aid in solution of economic problems arising from production and distribution of goods and services. May collect and process economic and statistical data using econometric and sampling techniques.

7. Compensation and Benefits managers: Plan, direct, or coordinate compensation and benefits activities and staff of an organization.

8. Interviewers, Except Eligibility and Loan: Interview persons by telephone, mail, in person, or by other means for the purpose of completing forms, applications, or questionnaires. Ask specific questions, record answers, and assist persons with completing form. May sort, classify, and file forms.

9. Mechanical Engineers: Perform engineering duties in planning and designing tools, engines, machines, and other mechanically functioning equipment. Oversee installation, operation, maintenance, and repair of such equipment as centralized heat, gas, water, and steam systems.

10. Sales Managers: Direct the actual distribution or movement of a product or service to the customer. Coordinate sales distribution by establishing sales territories, quotas, and goals and establish training programs for sales representatives. Analyze sales statistics gathered by staff to determine sales potential and inventory requirements and monitor the preferences of customers.
Beyond information.

Hire intelligence.

* Rapidly changing world markets and vast technological innovation. Increasing competition at home and abroad. Rising customer expectations. For employers and job seekers alike, staying competitive in today’s demanding workplace means making smart choices in all employment decisions. * At the same time, occupational information is everywhere—in books, newspapers, websites, magazines, and elsewhere. But most sources only give part of the picture. Without standardization in the business of employment, compiling, customizing, and maintaining occupational data can be a cumbersome, ongoing process.

Fortunately, the business of employment just got smarter.

O*NET is a unique, powerful source for continually updated occupational information and labor market research. By using a contemporary, interactive skills-based database and a common language to describe worker skills and attributes, O*NET transforms mountains of data into precise, focused occupational intelligence that anyone can understand easily and efficiently.
O*NET in action

More than a database—a solution.
O*NET integrates a powerful, relational database, a common language for job and skill descriptions, and crosswalks to other classifications systems into a complete solution for businesses, job seekers, and workforce development professionals. As the most comprehensive occupation resource available, O*NET helps workforce professionals:

DEVELOP detailed, accurate job descriptions.
IDENTIFY interest and experience requirements to align the right candidate with the right job.
DESIGN relevant career curricula and occupational skills development programs.
DEFINE success factors for promotion and advancement.
FORECAST HR requirements more effectively.

Tools you can use.
Whether it’s finding and retaining the right people, developing more effective job descriptions, or just getting the most recent occupational information available, O*NET is your complete solution for keeping up with today’s rapidly changing world of work. O*NET offers:

- Current, detailed information on more than 900 occupations.
- More than 450 standardized descriptors of skills, abilities, interests, knowledge, and work context.
- Standard occupational classification (SOC) coding.
- Easy-to-use interface and search menus.
- Skill-searchable occupational descriptions for more exact career targeting.
- Tools to build accurate job descriptions.
- Crosswalks to other classification systems and links to placement and labor market resources.
- Accommodation information to use as a disability counseling tool.

O*NET helps employers by giving them very current information to help in the designing of organizational, recruiting, training, and compensation systems.

Get O*NET in it. Some of the most sophisticated occupational systems in the world contain one powerful, unique ingredient: O*NET. Software and system developers can meet your specific needs by customizing O*NET’s powerful, flexible data to your own organization’s applications. O*NET contains information from some of the nation’s top occupational researchers and analysts. They have collected and classified this knowledge to guarantee that O*NET intelligence is accurate, current, consistent, and comprehensive.

Look for the seal. All software applications and other resources powered by O*NET data will now display the official “O*NET in-it” seal on their packaging. Look for it to find the most dynamic intelligence on today’s U.S. labor market.

O*NET will help us keep our internal job descriptions, appraisals, and training up-to-date. Rather than spend our time collecting data, we will have more time to focus on developing our workforce.

Association Support

As a leading national and industry association, we support O*NET, the Occupational Information Network. A major initiative of the United States Department of Labor, O*NET is a database of occupational information, specifying job characteristics and worker skills and abilities.

O*NET helps employers meet human resource challenges by identifying front line skill needs. It helps employees identify skills necessary to succeed in their fields, and helps job seekers understand the skills and training they need for the jobs they want.

We urge you to complete the O*NET questionnaire. By providing this valuable information, you will help the O*NET database capture the realities of the changing American workplace and be a participant in building a national labor exchange system able to compete in the international marketplace.

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

Your interest and support of the O*NET® Data Collection effort is very important to the success of the program. With that in mind, I am sending you this O*NET Toolkit for Business, in the hope that it will become a valuable aid to you and your organization. This is a free resource for your company from the U.S. Department of Labor.

The O*NET Toolkit for Business was created specifically for organizations like yours to help them use the information available through O*NET to simplify tasks such as writing job descriptions and planning for future human resource needs. The following pieces are included in the toolkit:

- The Quick Reference Guide to O*NET: an executive summary of O*NET information.
- The OnLine Guided Tour: an introduction to the O*NET OnLine application.
- The Content Model Reference Card: an overview of the conceptual foundation for O*NET occupational information.
- O*NET At Work: Writing Job Descriptions: step-by-step guide to writing job descriptions using O*NET OnLine.
- O*NET At Work: HR Planning and Employee Retention & Reskilling: step-by-step guide to doing human resource planning or solving employee retention/reskilling problems using O*NET OnLine.

We hope you find this Toolkit useful. If you have any comments or questions, please contact me at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION], or the Operations Center Manager at 1-877-233-7348 ext. 100.

Sincerely,

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

As we recently discussed on the telephone, enclosed are the questionnaire packets for the employees who were sampled to participate in the O*NET® Data Collection Program. Please distribute the packets to the appropriate employees as soon as possible.

Note that the label affixed to each envelope includes the occupation, line number and initials of the employee (optional) from the roster you created for each occupation. Please use the roster as a guide to ensure that each employee receives the correct envelope.

To encourage a high level of response from the employees, we have prepared the attached example memorandum that you can send to each employee to show your support for the Program. We hope you will consider modifying this memorandum as you wish and distributing it along with the questionnaire packets. Call me at the number below if you would like me to send an electronic copy of the memo to you.

We sincerely appreciate your company’s support of this important program and hope that our sincere thanks is communicated to each employee receiving a packet. We realize that their participation is completely voluntary and that their time is valuable.

Finally, as a token of our appreciation for your efforts, we have enclosed a Certificate of Appreciation from the U.S. Department of Labor in your name. Also enclosed is a frame for the certificate. Your personal efforts in support of this important national data collection program are recognized and sincerely appreciated by the U.S. Department of Labor, as well as the entire O*NET Project Team.

We will contact you again in the near future to see if you need any additional support. In the meantime, feel free to contact me toll free at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION] any time I can be of assistance.

RTI Letter to Employee to Accompany Questionnaire (With $10 Incentive)
Dear Madam or Sir,

On behalf of the U.S. Department of Labor, I am requesting your participation in the Occupational Information Network (O*NET) Data Collection Program. This important data collection effort is being undertaken to update the O*NET database, our nation's primary source of occupational information. RTI, a non-profit research organization, is conducting this data collection effort for the U.S. DOL and the National Center for O*NET Development. We are collecting data from randomly sampled workers in businesses all across the United States.

Your company has agreed to participate in the O*NET Data Collection Program. One of your co-workers, [NAME OF POC], is helping RTI to randomly sample employees to be invited to participate in this important program.

To participate, please complete the questionnaire enclosed with this letter and return it to us in the postage-paid envelope provided. It should only take about 30 minutes to complete. We also ask that you do this on your own time, not company time. We have enclosed $10, which is yours to keep as an expression of our appreciation for your time.

Your participation is completely voluntary. You can skip over any question you do not want to answer. Your responses are returned directly to RTI, where your answers will be kept private to the extent permitted by law and will not affect your employment in any way. Neither your name nor your company’s name will be associated with your response. Data will only be used in summary form to describe occupations - not specific jobs or the individuals performing them.

We have enclosed an O*NET brochure that will answer many questions you have about the O*NET program. If you have access to the Internet, you may wish to complete the questionnaire on our Web site at http://onet.rti.org. We have enclosed instructions to assist you with that. If you have any questions about this research study, please contact Mr. Derek Stone, Data Collection Task Leader, toll-free at RTI at 1-800-334-8571 ext. 26475.

Thank you for your help with the O*NET project. The participation of businesses and employees across the country will ensure that all occupational information contained in the O*NET system is accurate and useful to business, educators, and individuals exploring careers.

Sincerely,

Michael Penne
O*NET Project Director

What

What is O*NET?
The O*NET acronym stands for “Occupational Information Network.” It is the nation’s primary source of occupational information. O*NET is available as a timely, easy-to-use database that is designed to help millions of employers, workers, educators, and students make informed decisions about education, training, career choices, and work.

What is the O*NET Data Collection Program?
The O*NET Data Collection Program is an ongoing effort to develop and maintain this unique database on the detailed characteristics of workers and occupations. The information about an occupation is primarily collected directly from employees working within the occupation. The collection of this information is designed to provide data that are valid, reliable, and current.

Who

Who is funding this program?
The United States Department of Labor (DOL) funds the O*NET Data Collection Program. You can verify this information by checking the DOL Web site: https://www.doleta.gov/programs/onet.

Who is conducting the O*NET Data Collection?
Research Triangle Institute (RTI) is working with the United States Department of Labor (DOL) to collect these data. RTI is an independent, nonprofit research organization located in Research Triangle Park, NC. RTI maintains close ties with Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and North Carolina State University.
How did you select my workplace?

Your workplace was randomly selected from a list containing nearly every business and institution in the country. The participation of your organization is important since the employees we select will represent thousands of employees in many other organizations like yours nationwide.

Are you selling me something?

Absolutely NOT! This is not a market study and we are not selling anything. This is an opportunity for you to provide direct input to the United States Department of Labor regarding occupational data that will be used to continuously update the Occupational Information Network. O*NET information is available at no cost by downloading the O*NET Database or by viewing the O*NET data using O*NET OnLine (https://www.onetonline.org).

What are you asking me to do?

We are asking you to complete the enclosed questionnaire and return it to us in the postage-paid envelope provided. If you prefer, you can complete the questionnaire online at https://onet.rti.org. Your unique login credentials are printed in the upper right corner of the questionnaire cover.

How much time is this going to take?

It should take you approximately 30 minutes to complete the O*NET questionnaire.

Why am I being asked to do this and some of my co-workers are not?

Your organization has agreed to participate in the O*NET Data Collection Program. A representative at your organization is helping RTI to randomly sample employees to be invited to participate in the program. It is important that you, personally, complete the questionnaire and not give it to a co-worker. The questionnaire has been customized for your occupation and the statistical sampling method we used selected you, not your co-worker, to receive the questionnaire.

How many employees are you selecting in my workplace?

No more than 20 employees in total will be selected from your workplace. Usually, the number selected is much less than 20.

Why should I participate?

Your participation is important because your responses, combined with the responses of other employees, will describe your occupation to millions of job seekers, educators, career counselors, human resource professionals, and labor market analysts.

How will I personally benefit?

As our way of saying thanks for completing the O*NET questionnaire, you will find $10 in cash attached to the questionnaire cover. (The only exceptions are federal government employees and employees of establishments that request that no incentive be offered.) In addition, the information you provide will help ensure that the millions of Americans who access the O*NET database will see the most current, accurate, and comprehensive data available on your occupation.

What kinds of questions will I be asked?

The questionnaires consist of objective questions about the activities, work context, training, and other aspects of work within an occupation. You can find a complete set of questionnaires on the O*NET Data Collection Program Web site at https://onet.rti.org. You are asked to complete only one of the questionnaires and to answer the questions about your occupation.

Can I complete the questionnaires online?

Absolutely. The paper questionnaire sent to you is also available via our secure Web site, https://onet.rti.org. You will be issued login credentials to allow you to access the Web version of the questionnaire. These unique credentials (username and password) are printed on the web instructions sheet and on the last page of your questionnaire.

Am I required by law to participate?

No, your participation is voluntary. However, you are a critical link in this data collection project. This is an opportunity to provide direct input to the United States Department of Labor by providing occupational information.

Will the information that I provide be kept private?

Yes! Your responses will be kept private to the extent permitted by law and will not affect your employment in any way. Neither your name nor your establishment’s name will be associated with your response. Data will be used only in summary form to describe occupations—not specific jobs or the individuals performing them.

Is information on the O*NET Program available on the Web?

Yes, it is. Information on the O*NET Data Collection Program is available online at https://onet.rti.org. You can also find general information on many O*NET programs and resources at the O*NET Resource Center Web site: https://www.onetcenter.org.

Whom can I call if I have questions?

If you have any questions, you can call us toll free, 1-877-233-7348, ext. 100, and the O*NET Operations Center Manager will assist you.

RTI Letter to POC to Accompany Thank You/Reminder Postcard
Dear [NAME OF POC]:

Enclosed, please find the thank you/reminder postcards we discussed during our recent phone call. Each employee who was sampled to participate in the O*NET Data Collection Program should receive one of these postcards in the next day or so. The purpose of the postcard is to say "thank you" if they have already completed the questionnaire or to remind them to complete the questionnaire soon if they have not yet done so.

If you have not yet distributed the questionnaires to the sampled employees, please do not send a thank you/reminder postcard to them yet. Rather, distribute the questionnaires to them as soon as possible. Then, in about a week or so, send each one a postcard. That should allow enough time for them to have had a chance to complete the questionnaire.

I suggest that you use the employee roster or list you created to decide which employees should receive the postcards.

Let me thank you once again for your company’s participation and more specifically, for your personal efforts in support of this important data collection program.

Sincerely,

Dear O*NET® Data Collection Participant:

We recently mailed you a questionnaire and asked for your help to update and expand the National Occupational Information Network (O*NET) database. If you have completed and returned it to us, please accept our sincere thanks. As one of a small group of randomly sampled respondents selected for your occupation, your answers are critical to keeping the occupational information accurate and current in the O*NET database.

There is not much time left in the data collection schedule, so if you have not yet completed and returned the questionnaire, please do so as soon as possible. Your answers will ensure that the O*NET database remains a useful tool for business, educators, and individuals seeking career information. If you have access to the internet, you may find it convenient to complete the questionnaires online; if so, please refer to the questionnaire cover for your unique login credentials, and then visit https://onet.rti.org to participate.

Thank you for your help with this important project. If you have any questions, please call the O*NET Operations Center Manager toll-free at 877-233-7348, ext. 100.

Sincerely,

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

As we recently discussed, enclosed are the replacement questionnaires for the employees who were randomly sampled to participate in the O*NET® Data Collection Program and from whom we have not yet received a completed questionnaire.

While their participation in this program is voluntary, we want to be sure that each sampled employee has an opportunity to participate, and we are providing these replacement questionnaire packets in case they may have forgotten or misplaced the original set of materials.

The roster line number, occupation and initials of the employee (optional) who should receive each packet are indicated on the label affixed to each envelope. Please distribute these packets as soon as possible. Please use the roster that you previously created to ensure that the questionnaire is sent to the appropriate employee.

Let me thank you once again for your company’s participation and more specifically, for your personal efforts in support of this important data collection program.

RTI Letter to Accompany Replacement Questionnaire
Dear Madam or Sir,

Some weeks ago, I wrote you to seek your help with the National Occupational Information Network (O*NET®) Data Collection Program. This data collection effort is being conducted to update the O*NET database, our nation’s primary source of occupational information. As of today we have not yet received your completed questionnaire.

Your participation is critical to the success of the O*NET program, so it is very important that we receive your completed questionnaire. In case your questionnaire has been lost or misplaced, a replacement is enclosed. It should take you approximately 30 minutes to complete the questionnaire. If you have access to the Internet, you are encouraged to fill out the questionnaire on our web site at http://onet.rti.org.

I have also enclosed an O*NET brochure, instructions for completing the questionnaire on our website, and a postage-paid envelope for returning the completed questionnaire to RTI. If you would like more information on the O*NET program, please visit the O*NET website at http://www.onetcenter.org. If you have any questions about this research study, please contact Mr. Derek Stone, Data Collection Task Leader, toll-free at RTI at 1-800-334-8571 ext. 26475.

As we mentioned previously, your participation is completely voluntary. You can skip over any question you do not want to answer. Your answers will be kept private to the extent permitted by law and will not affect your employment in any way. Neither your name nor your company’s name will be associated with your response. Data will only be used in summary form to describe occupations, not specific jobs or the individuals performing them.

Thank you for your support of the O*NET project. The voluntary participation of businesses and employees across the country in O*NET data collection efforts will help to ensure the O*NET system continues to be an accurate and useful tool to business, educators, and individuals exploring careers.

Sincerely,

Michael Penne

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

RTI, a non-profit research organization, is assisting the United States Department of Labor in an initiative to build and maintain an occupational database known as the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®). As the nation’s primary source of occupational information, the O*NET project represents a vital component of the Department of Labor’s effort to provide current job-related information that workers can use to prepare themselves with the requisite skills to ensure success in the workplace.

Your establishment has been randomly selected to participate in this important program. Over the past several weeks, I have telephoned your company several times, but have been unsuccessful in identifying someone to help us. I only need to ask a few short questions about occupations performed in your organization to determine your eligibility to participate in the O*NET Data Collection Program. This call should take only about 5 minutes of your time.

There is not much time left in the data collection schedule, so it is important that we talk with a representative of your organization as soon as possible. Therefore, I would greatly appreciate your calling me, hopefully within the next few days, toll free, at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION]. You may call any time between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

I look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience, and thank you, in advance, for your cooperation.

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

As you may recall, the U.S. Department of Labor is sponsoring an important data collection project for the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®). Some weeks ago, our representatives at RTI, a non-profit research organization, sent a package of materials to you describing the O*NET project.

[COMPANY NAME] is one of a relatively small sample of companies in your industry that has been randomly selected to participate in the O*NET Data Collection Program, so it is very important that we receive some critical follow-up information from you. Since our initial conversation, we have tried several times, although unsuccessfully, to follow-up by phone. The purpose of our call is to verify that you received the package and to obtain additional information about the occupations within your company (as a representative of your industry) that is not available elsewhere.

The enclosed brochure provides more information about the O*NET Data Collection Program and the level of participation we are requesting from your company. Additional O*NET information is available on the Internet at http://www.onetcenter.org.

It is very important that our RTI representative speak with you within the next few days, as this phase of the data collection is coming to a close. Please contact [NAME OF BL] as soon as possible, toll-free, at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION], to discuss your company’s participation in this program. You may call any time between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, Monday through Friday. The call should take only a few minutes of your time.

Thank you very much for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Pamela L. Frugoli

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

The U.S. Department of Labor is sponsoring an important data collection project for the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®). Recently, a representative from RTI, a non-profit research organization, spoke with you about randomly sampling a small number of employees from your organization. We want to ask these employees to complete and return to us a short questionnaire. In the past few weeks, we have tried many times to reach you to follow up, but we have yet to speak with you directly.

We sincerely appreciate your cooperation in the project to this point. However, we still need to finalize this stage of the data collection as soon as possible to complete our data collection activities with your organization. The information we are requesting from your company is not available elsewhere, and therefore, it is very important that we have your company's input. The sampling process will involve only a few additional minutes of your time and the information you provide will be kept private to the extent permitted by law.

The O*NET Data Collection Program is an initiative to develop job related information that workers can use to prepare themselves with the requisite skills to ensure success in the workplace. The effectiveness of the Program depends on direct input from a relatively small number of organizations and their employees across the United States who have been randomly selected to participate. Additional information on the O*NET Data Collection Program is available online at www.onetcenter.org.

It is urgent that our RTI representative speaks with you within the next few days, as this phase of the data collection is nearly complete. The call should take only a few minutes of your time. At your earliest convenience, we would appreciate your calling [NAME OF BL] toll-free, at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION], to discuss your company’s participation in this program. You may call any time between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

Thank you very much for your time and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Dear [NAME OF POC]:

Thank you for your assistance with the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®) Data Collection Program. The information your employees provide about their occupations will guide workers in developing the requisite skills to ensure future worker and business success.

I am writing to ask your help in finalizing our data collection activities. Our project records show that some of the questionnaires we sent to your business have not yet been returned to RTI. [BL NAME], our project representative at RTI, has attempted to contact you several times to follow up, but as yet has been unable to speak with you directly. This phase of the O*NET Data Collection Program is nearly complete, and we have only a short time to obtain this important occupational information from the randomly sampled employees at your business.

It is very important that we speak with you within the next few days to learn the status of these missing questionnaires and to determine if for any reason, any of the sampled employees will be unable to meet our request. The deadline for this phase of the data collection program is near.

Please call [BL NAME] toll-free at 1-877-233-7348 ext. [BL EXTENSION], at your earliest convenience so that we may finalize our activities for your company. You may call any time between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, Monday through Friday. The call should take only a few minutes of your time.

Thanks again for your continued assistance with this important program.

Sincerely,

Dear (OE NAME):

You recently received a phone call from RTI International about an important program called the Occupational Information Network (O*NET®). As the caller explained, the U.S. Department of Labor is requesting your assistance with the O*NET program. The program serves employers, human resource professionals, job seekers, trainers, and labor market analysts nationwide who depend on occupational information to perform their daily work. Individuals who are exploring and planning careers also use O*NET information. We would like your help to keep this information current. As discussed on your call, it is important that we continue this effort amidst COVID-19.

You have been identified as an occupation expert for the occupation of (occupation name). As a participating expert, you are being asked to complete O*NET questionnaires on the knowledge areas, work activities, work context factors, and tasks common to the occupation; we also ask for some background information about you. To express our appreciation for your expert contribution to this effort, we have included a payment of $40 and a framed Certificate of Appreciation from the U.S. Department of Labor. You can either complete the paper questionnaires and mail them back to RTI in the postage-paid envelope provided, or you may complete the questionnaires online using unique login credentials provided on each questionnaire cover.

Your participation in this effort is voluntary, yet participation by you and other occupation experts is vital to the success of this important program. A member of the RTI O*NET team will call you in a few days to provide additional details and answer any questions you may have. Thank you for your time and consideration.

What is O*NET?
The O*NET acronym stands for “Occupational Information Network.” It is the nation’s primary source of occupational information. O*NET is available as a timely, easy-to-use database designed to help millions of employers, workers, educators, and students make informed decisions about education, training, career choices, and work.

What is the O*NET Data Collection Program?
The O*NET Data Collection Program is an ongoing effort to develop and maintain this unique database on the detailed characteristics of workers and occupations. The information about an occupation is primarily collected from employees working within the occupation. Occupation experts are providing information for some occupations. The collection of this information is designed to provide data that are valid, reliable, and current.

Who is funding this program?
The United States Department of Labor (DOL) funds the O*NET Data Collection Program. You can verify this information by checking the DOL Web site: https://www.doleta.gov/programs/onet.

Who is conducting the O*NET Data Collection?
Research Triangle Institute (RTI) is working with the United States Department of Labor to collect these data. RTI is an independent, nonprofit research organization located in Research Triangle Park, NC. RTI maintains close ties with Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and North Carolina State University.

What is an occupation expert?
An occupation expert is a person who has several years of experience and training in an occupation. He or she has the expert knowledge required to respond to questions about the tasks, knowledge, and activities required for work in the occupation.
How did you get my name?
Your participation is important because your responses, combined with the responses of other experts, will describe your occupation to millions of job seekers, educators, career counselors, human resource professionals, and labor market analysts.

How much time is this going to take?
It should take you approximately 90 minutes to complete the questionnaires using the instructions provided. After completing the O*NET questionnaires, please return them in the postage-paid return envelope provided. If you choose to complete the questionnaires online, please review the checklist located on the back of the return envelope. Before sealing the envelope, make sure all O*NET questionnaires on the packing list are enclosed. After completing the O*NET questionnaires, please return them in the postage-paid return envelope. Before sealing the envelopes, please review the checklist located on the back of the return envelope, and other aspects of the questionnaire online, you may decline either or both of these items. Your participation is voluntary. However, you are a critical link in this data collection program. This is an opportunity to provide direct input to the United States Department of Labor by providing occupational information.

What kinds of questions will I be asked?
The questionnaires consist of objective questions about the activities, work context, training, and other aspects of work within an occupation. You can find a complete set of questionnaires on the O*NET Data Collection Program Web site at https://onet.rti.org. Your unique credentials (username and password) are printed on the upper right corner of each printed questionnaire cover. To allow you to access Web versions of the questionnaires, these unique credentials (username and password) are printed on the cover of each paper questionnaire for ease of reference. Your participation in O*NET involves only three simple steps

Step 1: When you receive the package, make sure all O*NET questionnaires on the packing list are enclosed.

Step 2: Complete the O*NET questionnaires.
To maximize the quality of the data, we have pre-assigned the order of the questionnaires. Please complete the O*NET questionnaires in the order indicated on each questionnaire cover. Work at your own pace, in as many settings as your schedule permits. You may wish to complete the questionnaires online at https://onet.rti.org. Your unique login credentials are printed in the upper right corner of each printed questionnaire cover.

Step 3: Return the O*NET questionnaires in the enclosed postage-paid return envelope.
